GREAT COAST DAILY

IS APPRECIATIVE OF

EDITORIAL BONANZA

That such a great newspaper as the San Francisco Chronicle is willing to give recognition to small daily papers for editorial comment that follows from time to time, is truly evidenced by the fact that The Chronicle in the issue of Friday, February 17, reproduced an editorial from The Bonanza wherein Senator Shortridge of California was commended for the fight he made on the funding debt bill. The great coast paper, or the editor thereof, could readily understand that the statements and comment contained in The Bonanza editorial were not of a frivolous nature, and accordingly featured the article wherein the editorial was reproduced with a two-column head on the fourth page of the Friday issue. The article follows:

SHORTRIDGE'S POLICY ON DEBT
OF ALLIED NATIONS PRAISED

Nevada Newspaper Says Credit of Plan Adopted Belongs to California Senator.

Appreciation of the leadership displayed by Senator Samuel M. Shortridge of California at the Republican caucus held recently on the funding of the allied debt by the upper house is expressed in the following editorial appearing in the newspaper Bonanza, published at Tonopah, Nevada:

California is ably represented in the upper house of congress in the person of Samuel Shortridge. This was truly evidenced at a recent meeting of the Republican caucus on the funding of the allied debt. It became necessary for New York newspapers to reach official Washington before the inside story of what happened in this caucus became generally known, but they show that it was not other than Senator Shortridge who presented the solution of this vexing problem, and which was finally accepted as the official Republican program by a vote of 22 to 8.

TRAPPING WILD ANIMALS KEEPS
SCOUTS ACTIVE

E. R. SANS, biological assistant of the U. S. biological survey, and the state rabies commission, co-operating, has issued his report for January. It shows that N. J. Haden, a trapper of Nye county, stood second in the list as a destructor of wild animals in this state. The report to part follows:

During the month 44 hunters worked a total of 1190 days, taking 375 predatory animals: 52 bobcats, 322 coyotes and one mountain lion. The average catch per man figured on a 31-day basis was 9.7 animals. January was one of the coldest and stormiest months we have had for several years, and it was almost impossible to keep traps in working order, but I am pleased that a good deal of good was accomplished with poison. Out of the total of 375 animals taken, 220 of them were poisoned. This does not account for a great many that undoubtedly have died in the high brush where they have not been found. Trapper Crofut working in Eureka county is high man for the month taking 25 predatory animals. N. J. Haden, working in Nye county, is second with 19, and Trappers O. A. Tolman, Elko county, and Thomas Pauli, Eureka county, tied for third place by taking 18 each.

CELESTIAL TO SINK SHAFT ON
GOLDEN EAGLE

Systematic mining in the development of the Golden Eagle claim at Boyton, on a block of ground having a length of 400 feet, situated south of the block being operated by H. P. Betts and associates, has been inaugurated by C. Y. Poy, the Celestial mining operator of Tonopah. Poy, who is interested in the Betts lease, has secured a sub-lease from his co-partners, and purposes sinking a shaft to a depth of at least 100 feet before any prospecting or drifting is undertaken.

During the past couple of weeks Poy has been taking in supplies and equipping the premises with blacksmith shop and necessary tools, and the site for the shaft has been spotted. Chris Grant, one of the best-known and most experienced miners in the district, has been engaged as superintendent, an assurance that excellent headway will be made in the exploitation of the ground.

Poy is confident that he will uncover a rich body of ore on the ground he holds under sub-lease. He says he is not afraid of any "heap of horse" that may put in its appearance, but that he will pass through the "horse" and uncover "heavy big" body of high-grade ore. Poy is going at this lease single-handed and purposes making hay while the sun shines. The surface showing on the ground he holds under lease is reported as being splendid, and it is safe to state that if ore in paying quantities is encountered that regular shipments will be in order.
